

BEDROOM ELIGIBILITY

- The standard bedroom eligibility is based on one bedroom for each person in the household.
- A household may request fewer bedrooms than the number of people in the household, provided there are no more than two people sharing a bedroom. For example:
 - A couple who wish to live in a single bedroom property.
 - A household that wishes to have children sharing a room.
- Where separated parents share custody of children, a child must spend at least 21% of their time with a parent to be entitled to a bedroom under both CEHL guidelines (21% is usually taken as every second weekend and half school holidays).
- You may be required to provide Centrelink or Family Court documentation as proof of custody at the time of your interview.

To see how many properties CEHL has in each suburb or town and how many bedrooms they have visit our website at www.cehl.com.au and go to Applicant Info then to Locations (as shown below).

The screenshot shows the CEHL website interface. At the top is the CEHL logo and navigation links: Co-op housing, About CEHL, What's on, Contact, and Have your say. A 'Property' dropdown menu is open, listing options: Introducing Co-Op Housing, What Is Co-Op Housing?, Housing Program, Property Locations, Eligibility, Rent, How Do I Apply?, and FAQ. Below the menu, there is a 'CERC Pro' section with a 'Choose an area below' prompt. A map of Victoria is shown with several regions highlighted in blue and orange: Mildura, Bendigo, Shepparton, Bairnsdale, Warnambool, Ballarat, and Warregul. The URL 'View&Category_id=33' is visible at the bottom left of the page.

Selecting your Housing Locations-

- Although you cannot choose to live in a particular suburb, you can choose the Regions that you would like to live in.
- Regions are made up of a number of suburbs and towns close to each other.
- You could be offered a property in any one of the suburbs in the Regions you choose.
- You can change your preferences at any time by contacting us in writing.

Select your regions by circling the heading in the green or purple area on the back page of your application form.

The housing choices in the purple areas are explained below.

Housing Choices-

CEHL is working towards providing different housing choices to better match the housing needs of Victorian people. Apart from the traditional houses and units, there are these alternative homes which may suit you.

- Ringwood and Abbotsford Apartment living
These apartments are located close to amenities such as shops, public transport and/or employment opportunities.
- Dandenong, Mordialloc, Geelong Over 55's
Housing for people over 55 years of age.
- Bacchus Marsh Over 60's
Housing for people over 60 years of age
- Co-housing Heidelberg
A Co-housing development which is designed for environmentally conscious people. In this development, residents occupy their own self-contained homes, but regularly share meals and some facilities such as common garden, laundry, workshop and recreation rooms.

The best way to keep up to date with the most recent information is to visit CEHL's website www.cehl.com.au
