

WHAT ARE THE BENEFITS OF LIVING IN A CEHL CO-OP?

We would like to hear from you ...

CEHL would like to understand more about what living in co-operative housing means to you. What do you value about being a co-op member, and what can CEHL improve in the housing and the support services we deliver?

Why we need your involvement ...

We're asking you to get involved because your view is important to us.

We are working with co-op members to plan some exciting co-op engagement activities over the coming months – including workshops, online sessions and other opportunities.

All of the activities will focus on co-op members providing their view on the benefits of living in a CEHL co-op. This will help CEHL better support and work with co-ops. It will also help CEHL and co-ops to agree on what we are trying to achieve through co-op housing and how to measure if we are doing a good job.

As part of this process, we will be using Engagement Coordinators to facilitate the sessions.

Who are the Engagement Coordinators?

We are trialling a new approach to working with our co-ops. We have recruited Engagement Coordinators to support how we hear about what's important to you.

Engagement Coordinators are members of co-ops who all live in co-op housing. They are passionate about making sure co-op member voices are heard and are keen to listen to you.

Who to contact for more information

For further information about the project, please contact Jen Dwyer on 9208 0805 or EngagementCoordinator@cehl.com.au.

What does it involve?

The engagement process has three steps:

1

Community Conversations May-June

Led by Engagement Coordinators

There will be face-to-face and online activities you can be involved in – stay tuned to find out more!

- Please save the date for Tuesday 14th June online information sessions, in the afternoon and evening
- Face-to-face events will be held regionally, later in June.

2

Co-op conversations June – July

Led by co-ops

Information will be sent to co-op directors so they can work with their members to provide feedback on behalf of co-ops. Co-ops can complete a 'Conversation Pack', that will be provided.

3

Closing the loop

August – September

Led by consultants Think Impact

We will be in touch with you about what we heard and the results.
